FOREWORD

Hello FUBARians, you are about to enter a new dimension. A dimension not only of sight and sound, but of mind. Ok, it's a dimension of my mind, so maybe it should say "out of mind" but in any event, this will be a good ride.

In 1989, I began my college life at Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University. It was also this first year that I founded the FUBAR's Softball Team. The FUBAR's would go on to play under my leadership or direct involvement for eight seasons. During the period of time between 1989 and 1997, the FUBAR's would win a total of three league championships, one homecoming tournament and maintain a better than 85% win percentage throughout. In addition, some (yours truly included) of the FUBAR's would go on to play in the co-ed league and win an additional three championships. The entire exercise proving that the will and drive to win was very prominent in the FUBAR organization.

Throughout the entire period that the FUBAR's played at Embry-Riddle (at least while I was in town – can't account for what happened after June 1997!?) one staple of the FUBAR weekly diet was the FUBAR News Corporation Newsletter. The earlier newsletters were written as a way to let the gang know when a game or practice was held, who was playing, etc. After the first year of just your basic info and a few attempts at a pseudo-journalistic point of view, the newsletter took on a new form of life. This new form would constantly attempt to motivate, harass and of course inform the players of the operations of the FUBAR News Corporation and all it's members and divisions (be they fictitious or not!). Eventually becoming the normal Modus Operandi for the newsletter, this weekly publication was that which helped to bring life to the figurative FUBAR dynasty/empire that everyone came to know and love (at least that's what I hope it was doing? Or I was just rambling on for nothing then...)

In any case, the newsletter was always a way for me to keep the team informed but more importantly, and as I just stated, to keep everyone motivated and entertained (although some I'm sure found issues more annoying than entertaining, my motive was always of a purely positive manner.) The FUBAR news would be the one element though of the FUBAR's that would always essentially be mine. The team would see five captains over it's eight year period and of course some of the newsletters were written by them, I would however, always seem to find a way back to the writers chair commanding the reigns. The newsletter always seemed to find it's way back to me and I of course always welcomed it with open arms. The newsletter was my way of keeping in touch with everyone even including friends and former players in the subscription list throughout the years.

The FUBAR's have always been a very integral and endearing part of my college and post college life and it represents me (for lack of a better explanation). The years I created and ran and eventually just played on the FUBAR's softball team demonstrates some of the biggest changes and periods of growth in my life and it's also where I formed almost all of the lasting friendships I have to this day. (This is exhibited by the FUBAR's who attending my wedding and vice versa and of course the friends I choose to remain in contact with daily, weekly and yearly still.)

So, what's with this compilation then? Well, it dawned on me that after eight years of the FUBAR softball newsletters of course the couple years in England where I liked to keep the gang "together," I wrote a lot of crap! (No snide remarks please) So, I figured that if I put all the newsletters together I think it would be a pretty impressive stack of papers? So, to test my theory, I did just that!

So, Here in its entirety is the complete compilation of FUBAR News Corporation newsletters beginning with the 1989 season and ending with the Wedding letters from England. It also includes some never before seen text, graphics and, for some, newsletters I'm sure!

This book is broken up into "chapters" and it contains an appendix which has some of the "BONUS Material" So, as I always say, go grab a BEvERage, your favorite chair and immerse yourself back into the world of the FUBAR's. What a long strange road it's been and I thank you all for riding along with me during some, most, or all of it.

Your always faithful, not always truthful but still loyal comrade,

FOREWORD – UPDATE

So it dawned on me just a couple years ago that the FUBAR's are fast approaching their 20 year anniversary! It only seems like yesterday that yours truly was a freshman in 1989 and gearing up a group of player's to start softball in spring of 1990!

Anyway, about 9 years ago, I sent "some" of you a collection of the FUBAR newsletters entitled: The FUBARchives: A collection of fine journalism. I was pleased with the result (and the comments from former players) however; I had one thing nagging me about it? - It wasn't enough...

You see, the original concept was to give you guys the entire history of the FUBAR's but, then, economic and logistical issues prevented me from doing that. Now however, thanks to advances in digital technology and the blood, sweat & tears (and about $150 bucks) of so many I can finally give you what you truly (and respectfully) deserve – The FUBARchives REDUX: A collection of fine journalism.

Speaking with a friend of mine ("Dennis" - who is in no way affiliated with the FUBAR's other than he frequents the www.FUBARHQ.com website and hangs with the CEO from time to time) mentioned that if I wanted, he would be "happy" to scan my FUBAR documents for archiving. That's when, after my fourth cup of coffee, I came up with this – The FUBARchives REDUX idea.

So, what you have here is "the" ultimate FUBAR historical document - A digitized version of, just about, every piece of paper or page contained in the FUBAR Annual Volumes! The Annual Volumes ("The Books" as we like to call them) were "yearbooks" created by yours truly to maintain the historical accuracy of the FUBAR's over the years. "The Books" currently reside in FUBARHQ and have never been fully accessible to the general public but, all that's about to change. After a 4 hour copy session and painstaking scan work (by Dennis) what you now have is, basically... everything!

This second (updated) installment, The FUBARchives REDUX, not only contains every newsletter as the 2001 version did but, it now contains every schedule, stat sheet, scorecard, "behind-the-scenes" notes, receipts, concepts and of course "never before seen" photos! Every page has been copied onto "color matched" paper (or a color scan when we just couldn't make it look right!) and every photo has been digitally re-mastered right off the photo album itself! - You see it now just as if you if you pulled one of "The Books" right off the shelf and thumbed through it!

So, I hope that after 20 years and a full day of re-editing you'll finally leave me alone* about all this FUBAR stuff!? - Happy 20th gang... The Train's Keeps a Rollin'...

Chapter I

Spring 1990

...the beginning

This chapter is pretty self-explanatory – the beginning. This was the first season at ERAU and I basically just took upon the task of getting a team together for my dorm wing. I basically got the guys together to play ball, there was no recruiting, no try-outs to play, I just wanted 10 reliable souls to stand in the field each week and guess what? – it showed.

FUBAR NEWS

Hey fubarrians, how's it goin. Well you didn't think it could happen, but here it is, the first Fubarrian Newsletter. Let us begin... The Fubars have been having a great season, one game left and our record is 3-1. The loss is because Romero (the ump that couldn't count), ripped us of a run. We had an injury, Ray Oyung one of our outfielders, decided to test fate and play for another team as well as the Fubars... mistake number one. Ray was downed by a girl (damn that's cold) and suffered a broken shoulder, rendering him useless, for softball that is. Ray ended the season with a .667 batting avg and had the game saving home run against Sigma Phi Delta. Ray has been last seen drugged-out on pain killers. On Sunday, March 11, the Fubars played H.F.T.B. (Here For The Beer). Well they should've stayed home, because the Fubars crushed them 22-10. That game saw two new prospects for the team, Kevin West, .750 for the day, and John Westhead, .333 for the day. Unfortunately, J.B. (head of rec. dept.) said "No dice" to signing them up, so the Fubars take a loss. Our last regular season game is this Sunday, the 18th, against the Blacksheep, the worst team in the A division playoffs (the same division we're in). The game will be held at the on campus field at 12 O'clock, write it down. No game this thursday. The Fubars had it's first pizza gathering last Sunday, in which Tom Zweifel was domineering in the field of conversation. PLEASE NO MORE! Sam was his usual jolly self and was again repeatedly pelted with degrading remarks, how does he survive the onslaughts his teammates give him? Sam although has come about since being put at third. He had a .333 avg. after his first game. The next game (at third) he had a 1.000 avg. and last Sunday a .750 avg.

the boy can't be stopped. Tod Gumbrecht was absent from Sunday's game because the boy was hurtin from the previous night's festivities. He may be punished severely, how does home plate sound? No offense Arryn. Speaking of the king of sheep himself. The Fubars saw the man from down under play the outfield, and almost had a spectacular bare handed catch, but he couldn't hold on. Maybe next time. Greg was absent from Sunday's crushing victory, because he was in the clouds. Greg Rettich has the worst avg. of all the Fubars, but when he hits the ball, it's gone. The sole hit he has had this season was a three run home run he got when all we wanted him to do was make contact. Dan Murro is doing quite well at first base, but guys, bring the ball down, he can only jump so high. Well, the last order of business is about the playoffs. We're in the A division, and once it starts, it's only six games to the end. However it is ~~single~~ ^{double} elimination and we may have to play two, possibly three games a day. So, if the games aren't back to back, we have to toss the ball around somewhere so as to not stiffen up after the previous game. Anyway, we're going to win it anyway. This is D-MAN, your capt. and teammate and producer of this newsletter. I'll see you at the game, should be an easy win, and remember, it's not whether you win or lose, but whether you win!

FUBAR NEWS

Fellow Fubarrians, how are my comrades doing? Glad to hear it. Yeah Right! Let me ask you a question, What is a NOID? A NOID is a little guy, who can never accomplish the task, or a task which he has set out to do. i.e. The Domino Confrontation. Well, we have to play a team full of these little inconsistent creatures. I think the FUBARS should have no problem defeating these NOIDS, as they so wished to be called, and sending them back to the hovel they crawled out of! Then my fellow friends, after that victorious battle, we shall be challenged by a group called THE VETS CLUB. This team could consist of veterans, retired from the professional sport of softball, who reunited to form one of the most devastating softball teams around. Or it could be just what it sounds like, a bunch of guys who like to "hang-out" with animals! Anyway, we play these NOID creatures here on-campus at 10:00am Sunday, then if, or when we win, we play the VETS CLUB at 12:00pm also at the on-campus field. I expect to have a good turn-out by our members. I hope we can ALL get up a little early and practice before the game, because it is the first game and also because we were waived of our game last Sunday. This was due to the fact that we are so menacing, they won't even come to face defeat like men. Rui "THE SHARK" Pereira will be attending the game, and has already approached me to claim his spot in the outfield, I think we "may" be able to accomodate. Ray Oyung will be there as a spectator, so he says. We believe he wants a trophy, but that will be impossible for the traitorous act he committed, which left him in agonizing pain and a cripple. RAY GET LOST! Dan Murro will also be attending. Dan has shown the team what a force he is at first base. Keep up the good work. Tom Zweifel will be attending Sunday's exercise. Tom had a very nice catch at second base that everyone thought he was going to scrub. Sam "verbally

"barraged" Swensen will also be at the games. Sam has shown to be an asset at third base, well maybe not an asset, but he filled the ass part and has done a good job so far. No offense Sam, but it's the general opinion. Toshiaki "ninja turtle" Wakabayashi has had a great season as pitcher. Tosh has fared well against most opponents, and has shown to be the force on the mound! Tod "Hungover" Gumbrecht is looking forward to Sundays games in order to redeem himself among us. Greg Rettich, our "short" short-man is also looking forward to this game in order to improve his batting average. Jim Weisheit shall be at the game. Jim has shown remarkable skill, well some skill in the clean-up batting position (4th for you guys who don't know what's going on). Scott Douglass has not yet contacted me, so I don't know if he is alive. We'll see Sunday. Lastly, Arryn "sheep-herder" Milne will be at the games. This man from "down-unda" has proven to be an awesome catcher. He has shown incredible ability at catching and returning the ball. Arryn, "G'Day mate". Well that's about all, except to inform you of some of the rules for playoffs...

1. Protests are made to umps and settled before play resumes. J.B. resolves all, he is law! Yeah, Yeah O.K.

2. A forfeit will not eliminate a team, unless it is the second loss.

3. I.D. ARE NECESSARY IN ORDER TO PLAY! VERY IMPORTANT, DON'T FORGET.

Well there you have it, I will see all of you at the games! This is Dave "D-MAN" Moeder, your captain, teammate and editor of this newsletter.

FUBAR NEWS

Well Fubarians, it happened, we've faced defeat. I don't know what happened we just didn't play well. I think it was the field...think about it. We never played on it before, It's all dirt, and the ball bounced a lot more on it than the grass infield of the airport fields. However, we got crushed, 14 to 0 (Ouch!, that hurts). We can't lose anymore games if we want to win the championship. Thanks to double elimination! This still doesn't erase the fact that we will probably have somewhere around 5 to 7 more games... Can't lose one. Let's run through the players: We'll start with pitching. Tosh "ninja turtle" Wakabayashi tried hard to pull us through, but all attempts failed. Our fielding couldn't bail him out, good game anyway Tosh. Sam "verbally barraged" Swensen just couldn't get a bead on the ball. The NOIDS just ripped em down the third-base line. Don't worry about it Sam. Jim Weisheit had trouble at the shortstop position. He had a tough time coming up with the ball. Next time Jimbo. Todd "hungover" Gumbrecht seemed to do fairly well at second. Nice double-play Todd, keep it up. By the way Jim, nice toss to first to finish it. Greg "short-man" Rettich had trouble coming up with the ball on the one play, otherwise played well. Rui "Shark" Pereira had a tough time in left-field. The NOIDS hit the ball short, long, longer. Rui was pelted with an onslaught of hits that just made him look like a victim. Scott "the ghost" Douglass didn't have many plays in right-field. Although the one hit toward that direction left him munching dirt! Hell of an attempt though. Myself, I caught the one fly hit to center field, was robbed of a catch by Greg, and missed a routine grounder that Sheldon in little league could catch. Well Arryn "shepherd" Milne played well at home, not too much more to say about it. G'day mate. Dan Murro has come to me and protested

BLAH BLAH BLAH BLAH BLAH which has made Dan the great ball player that he is, keep up the good work DAN-O. Guys keep the ball down for him. Guys, our next game is this Thursday at 7:00pm at the on-campus field again. We play the OLD MILLDOGGIES, they are supposedly better than the NOIDS. We have to improve our hitting this thursday and get some runs. See you at the games. This is Dave "D-MAN" the captain, editor and writer of this newsletter.
